

Terms and conditions Open Calls Buma Music in Motion

- Open calls are only intended for composers registered by BumaStemra.
- Application for open calls is solely possible via the application form on the Buma Music in Motion website.
- The registrant guarantees its availability at the indicated date and times.
- The registrant provides workable hyperlinks to music examples that are available during the entire application period. If hyperlinks are not working the application will be put aside.
- Buma Music in Motion reserves the right to edit the provided content.
- The provided photo will be used for promotional purposes only, same goes for provided links to music.
- Selection for open calls will be done by a selection committee, carefully curated by Buma Music in Motion. The selection committee will operate anonymously. Buma Music in Motion reserves the right to have a final verdict about the outcome.
- Applicants of an open call will be informed of their possible selection within the foreseeable future after the deadline. Given the large number of open calls and applications, Buma Music in Motion cannot correspond on individual cases.
- Application for an open call means you are available to physically attend the event described, if you cannot attend then Buma Music in Motion reserves the right to pick someone else.

These terms and conditions are subject to change.

Version: September 2023